Biography

Amy E. Millard focuses her practice on defending individuals in white-collar criminal and regulatory enforcement matters. Since joining Clayman & Rosenberg LLP as a partner in 1999, she has represented chief executive officers, chief financial officers, compliance officers, attorneys, investment bankers, traders and salespersons, bank relationship managers, operations managers, IT personnel, and executives in a wide variety of industries.

She has successfully defended clients in investigations and actions brought by the Department of Justice, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, The Federal Reserve Board Division of Banking and Supervision, the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, the New York State Attorney General, the District Attorney's Office of New York, and various other federal and state authorities. Such matters have involved allegations of banking and other financial fraud, securities fraud, market manipulation, improprieties in the sale of various securities (including municipal securities, mortgage backed securities and derivative products), mail and wire fraud, False Claims Act violations, criminal antitrust violations, false statements, obstruction of justice, failure to maintain appropriate anti-money laundering systems, violations of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, OFAC violations, health care fraud, and criminal tax matters including cross-border tax investigations.

Additionally, she has significant experience in cross-border investigations in the United Kingdom, Israel and Switzerland.

Prior to joining Clayman & Rosenberg LLP, Amy clerked for the Honorable Whitman Knapp in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, and she served as an Assistant United States Attorney for the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York.
